9. Data Protection, Liability and General Rules of Participation

9.1 Data protection: Bella IG collects personal data of the participants for the purpose of preparing and conducting the annual meeting. The data will be deleted as soon as they are no longer required for the purpose for which they were processed and insofar as there is no legal obligation to retain them. It is possible to obtain information about all personal data of the participants free of charge. For questions and requests for deletion, correction or blocking of personal data as well as collection, processing and use, participants can contact the organizer of the annual meeting (see address below).

9.2 Photo and video recordings: By submitting their entry, the participants (driver, co-driver, children, motor vehicle owners and owners) declare his/her consent to the carrying out of photographic and filming work during the event as well as to the granting of free broadcasting, public reproduction, recording, reproduction and editing rights with regard to the film or photo recordings made by him/her, any accompanying persons or their vehicles. The granting of rights also includes the use of recordings for the purposes of self-promotion, event advertising and use by sponsors and partners. Not only the organizer, but also the participants and spectators, have a legitimate interest in taking photos and possibly video recordings of the event and possibly publishing them. If you want to be sure not to appear on any recordings of the organizer, participants or visitors, we can unfortunately only recommend that you stay away from the annual meeting. Of course, you can contact the organizer on site if you do not want any recordings of yourself. Even if you later discover recordings of yourself that were taken by the organizer that you dislike, participants can contact the organizer about it. However, we have no influence on other recordings, e.g. of participants or visitors, and in particular not on photos, videos and the reporting of e.g. daily newspapers and trade magazines.

9.3 Liability and general rules of participation: The participants (driver, passenger, children, motor vehicle owners and owners) participate in the event at their own risk and waive any right of action and recourse against the organizer for themselves and their dependents by submitting the name for all accidents and damages suffered in connection with the event - unless caused by intent or gross negligence, its agents and helpers, as well as against authorities and any persons associated with the organization of the event. Participants bear civil and criminal responsibility for any damage caused by them and their vehicles. The Highway Code must be complied with under all circumstances. The exclusion of liability becomes effective with the submission of the name to all parties involved. The prerequisite for participation is the completed and signed entry and payment of the entry fee. The organizer may reject an entry without giving reasons. Should a provision be invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected. The course regulations (posted at the venue) of the TUS Berndorf are recognized.

9.4 Declaration of consent:

(please tick) I/we have/have taken note of the above-mentioned rules of the Annual Meeting on data protection, photo and video recordings as well as liability and the general rules of participation and agree/agree to them.
